Sardis—The Late Fires There—Brilliant Crop Prospects in Panola, Yallobusha, Carroll, DeSoto and Lafayette Counties—Improvements at Winona—Shooting Scrape at Duck Hill—Exciting Chase—Condign Punishment—Sensible Negroes—They Know their Friends.

WATER VALLEY, MISS., August 11, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Having been too busy to write you from many of the stations along the Mississippi and Tennessee and the Mississippi Central Railroads, I concluded it will not be uninteresting to many of your readers to hear of the "internal improvements" going on in this section, and I shall give you an account of several places, in brief.

Leaving Memphis, I soon arrived in the little town of Sardis, where I saw many signs of life in rapidly repairing the severe losses recently sustained them by a fire which destroyed several of the most important business houses. Sardis is situated in Panola county—a county which possesses the fertility of soil of the swamps and the health of the hills. The land is well watered and timbered, and is conveniently situated to the Mississippi river, the Mississippi Central and the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroads, and every facility for transportation and travel is afforded; and an accommodation train carries passengers daily from Sardis, after breakfast, to Memphis and back before supper. Sardis will be sought, and Panola county will be settled, as valuable and desirable places, combining so many happily adapted advantages.

I must not neglect to say that your correspondent is indebted to Rev. Mr. Gooch, the efficient Principal of Sardis Female Academy, for courtesies extended; also, to Maj. J. Fred. Simmons for hospitable entertainment at his elegant new house in Sardis.

I have traversed much of Panola county on horseback, and I am much pleased to report its crop as excellent, averaging about thirty per cent. better than last year's crop.

Your correspondent has examined well the corn and cotton crops of Carroll, Panola, Yallobusha, DeSoto and Lafayette counties, and can confidently claim thirty per cent. improvement upon last year's crop in each.

I find nearly all the little towns building up somewhat. The principal towns of rapid improvement are Winona and Water Valley. In Winona, I found twenty-seven business houses, and improvements still going bravely on. The Winona Vidette has recently passed into the hands of Messrs. Booth & Son, who have changed its name to the Democrat. If you should ever visit this very lively and interesting town, don't forget the magnificent hotel of J. Morin, who has also the finest French liquors. To Judge W. W. Marshall, I am indebted for hospitality during my stay here.

Leaving Winona on last Sabbath morning early on the north-bound train, we soon halted for a few moments at Duck Hill, when all seemed quiet; but as the train moved slowly off from the depot, a sudden pistol shot startled the passengers, who all rushed to the car windows, and upon looking out we saw a negro chased by two white men who were firing upon him every step. They hit him twice, and he halted. I afterwards learned that the negro had previously seriously wounded one of the pursuing party; and on the following day the negro was found in a pond near Duck Hill, with his throat cut. Thus has another offender passed away; though I am happy to say that most of the negroes in Mississippi are deserving great credit for their good conduct and their good sense in voting with their former masters, who have always proved to be their best and only friends. They are also entitled to our regard for their uniform quiet deportment and diligence to their labors during all the commotions and confusions of the times, notwithstanding the infamous teachings of the scalawags and scoundrels who infest this country to sow the seeds of discord between the white man and the black.

Everything is stirring briskly in Water Valley. The town is situated badly to show what it really is. It is scattered up and down the Railroad, but is withal, only equaled by Winona, on the M. C. R. R., for business, life, energy and enterprise.

I will write you from Grand Junction soon. OCTAVIUS.

Rumors of War.

The New York correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, writing on Thursday, says:

Large purchases of hay have just been made in this market, on account of the French Government. This fact, together with recent heavy purchases of horses for the same party, and the enormous accumulation of bullion in the Bank of France, (equal to $250,000,000 in gold, now,) is looked upon by not a few of the longest heads, in financial and business circles here, as indicative of a coming war—notwithstanding the Emperor's protestations that the empire is at peace.

Private letters from intelligent sources, on the other side, fall in with this expectation. They say there is much dissatisfaction of a political character beginning to manifest itself in very unmistakable forms among the masses, (though the public journals are silent on the subject,) and that the Emperor, to avert trouble at home, may deem it politic to get up a war with his neighbors. That, we are assured, is the certain drift of all his later movements.

The Coming Elections.

Four State elections occur in September. Tennessee votes on the 13th, Vermont on the 1st, California on the 8th, and Maine on the 14th. Nebraska, Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Iowa and West Virginia vote in October. On the 3d of November (the day of the Presidential election), New York, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Missouri, Kansas, Nevada and Massachusetts hold their elections. In the next twelve weeks, therefore, we shall have not less than twenty-three State elections.

A CORRESPONDENT writes: "To see Niagara, you buy eleven silk dresses for your wife and six shirts for yourself. You then get all the ready money you have, borrow all your friends have, and make arrangements for unlimited credit at two or three good, solvent banks. You then take six trunks, some more money, a nurse, a colored servant, some more money, and then, after getting some more money, and extending your credit at one or two more strong banks, you set out. It is better, if possible, just before you leave, to mortgage your homestead and get some more money."

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

RICHMOND, August 18.—J. M. Humphreys, Collector of this port and a member of the City Council, was removed from the latter position by military authority yesterday.

COLUMBIA, August 18.—Yesterday the House passed a bill putting the negro on an equal footing with the white man. Seventy sections of the tax law were also passed, without opposition.

The Governor has as yet been unable to raise any funds.

WASHINGTON, August 18.—The treaty between the United States and China, recently ratified by the Senate, has been transmitted to the Chinese Government, therefore the ratification treaty cannot be immediately exchanged.

Gen. Rosecrans spent a part of Saturday at the State Department with Secretary Seward and received a portion of his instructions. His other instructions will be deferred until his departure for Mexico, which will not take place probably until the latter part of next month. He recently ratified the Convention for the ratification of claims, to be sent to Mexico. No Commission will be appointed under it as stipulated, as the final action on the treaty will be by the Mexican Government and the exchange of ratifications.

KINGSTON, August 18.—The Commandant here has received instructions to have the troops ready and under arms at short notice. The Commissariat Department is actively engaged making the necessary arrangements. The guard at the Provincial Penitentiary has been doubled.

OTTAWA, August 18.—Vague rumors prevail as to the assembling of a large force of Fenians in the neighborhood of Ogdensburg. The men belonging to the rifle brigade at rifle practice have been called in, and orders issued to the military to be on the alert.

TORONTO, August 18.—Two thousand volunteers are to be called out for three weeks, and they are to be brigaded with the regulars. The Commissariat Department here have received orders to provide supplies.

Geo. H. Bangs, the Chicago detective, was brought before a police magistrate, to-day, on a charge preferred by Mr. D. Thompson, accusing him with being implicated in the late express robbery. He was remanded until Thursday.

NEW YORK, August 18.—Portau Prince dates of the 8th instant state that the Cacos, after capturing the war schooner Sylvian, found on board a curate, the Minister of War and President Solnave's mother.

The President was preparing to marry a wealthy lady, and embarked on a United States man-of-war for the United States. He is constantly visiting foreigners, and has imprisoned the Prussian Consul and some Englishmen. On the same day the British Minister protested, demanding protection for the British subjects in the country, but Solnave threatened his life. The inhabitants of the capitol are in constant fear.

The British man-of-war Favorite was preparing to bombard the city, and it was expected that Gen. Paxton Faubert would thereafter enter the place.

Mexican advices state that Governor Hernandez, of Vera Cruz, had returned from his expedition to Madelin, where he made an ineffectual attempt to capture the insurgent leader Preito.

The land and sea operations, undertaken against the rebels of Alvarado and vicinity, had all failed, and the city of Vera Cruz was full of malcontents.

The French, German, Spanish and American business men had espoused the cause of the Governor, and were aiding him to raise men, and to feed as well as pay his troops punctually. The Governor had ordered the cattle in the suburbs to be seized for their use.

TENNESSEE.

—From the Banner of Sunday we clip the following: Mrs. Gen. Mariah Johnson, grand-daughter of President James K. Polk, of Alsoama, died a few days ago of dropsy of the heart. Her funeral was one of the largest ever attended in Columbia.

—A young man named James Booker, while lifting at a log on his farm a few miles from Columbia, accidentally burst a blood vessel, from which he died soon after.

—The corps of engineers engaged in the preliminary survey of the Jackson branch of the Nashville and Northwestern Railroad, have proceeded in their labors some eight or nine miles from Huntingdon, in the direction of Milan.

—The new Directory of the Nashville and Chattanooga Railroad consists of the following named gentlemen: E. W. Cole, Esq., President; John W. Thomas, Superintendent; W. A. Gleaves, Secretary and Treasurer, and R. C. Bransford, Book-keeper.

—Another, and the second burglar, who robbed the Franklin Express office and robbed its safe, a few days since, was arrested at Franklin yesterday. There were only two engaged in the affair, and they were negroes. The instruments with which they opened the safe were an ax, sledge hammer and crowbar.

—A man named Louis Griffin was recently shot in the left breast and mortally wounded by James Gray, near Webster's Mill, ten miles west of Columbia, on the Hampshire pike. Griffin is said to have had a double-barrelled shotgun with him in readiness for his enemy at the time he was wounded. The affray originated from a quarrel about a woman.

—From the West Tennessean we get the following account of the crops in that section: We have in the past few days traveled to some extent through the southern portion of Carroll and the northern part of Henderson counties, and are glad to note the extremely favorable appearance of the crops. The crop of corn is the finest we have ever seen. From our own observation and information derived from others, we believe that should no special misfortune happen, there will be more corn made in Carroll and adjoining counties the present season than in any one season for twenty years past. The cotton at this time looks very promising, but as yet it is too early in the season to predict with any certainty the character of the crops. The fruit crop is very fine. The peach trees are just about full enough to secure good fruit, which on many of them is just now maturing. Apple trees are, as a general thing, well loaded, and the fruit very fine.

ABOUT a month ago an Irish family pitched a tent in the woods a short distance from Groton Center, Conn., and have lived there ever since. The head of the family is Joseph Sinnott, a bricklayer. He is an intelligent man about forty-five years of age, and had spent three years and a half at the Dublin University. His library consists of works on Hindoo mythology, Xenophon, Homer, Virgil and others of the same class, with all of which he is perfectly familiar.

ABOUT ten o'clock a.m. Sunday, August 9th, six water spouts were observed on Lake Erie, off the harbor of Cleveland, six miles west and several miles from shore, moving in an easterly direction. On the 7th inst. two or three were also observed off the coast of "Brookwood," a few miles east of the city. One of those observed on Sunday was very large.

STATE FEMALE COLLEGE.

THE Fall Session of this Institution will commence on MONDAY, the 14th of September next, with a full and superior Faculty (as usual) in all the departments. In addition to the branches usually taught, arrangements have been made for a full course of lessons in PHYSICAL CULTURE according to the system of Dio Lewis. This places the State Female College, in this respect, in advance of any other school at the South, and parents, both at home and abroad, will soon come to see its beneficial effects.

The City Railroad Cars now run out to the College, and render city patronage perfectly practicable. Parents and guardians in the city will find on inquiry that they can enjoy the benefits of this superior school and make a saving—even when car-fare is added—of 25 to 33 per cent. on tuition bills. MEMPHIS APPEAL.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

TEST OATHS, AND THE FRANCHISE LAW OF TENNESSEE.

NO. 2.

"If the Convention of 1865 intended to empower the Legislature to change the Constitution, and to annul the right of eighty thousand men to vote, to whom the Constitution guaranteed that right, and from none of whom, under it, could the right be taken away, except upon conviction of an infamous crime, could it delegate that power to the Legislature?"

We were compelled to pause, yesterday, at this question, for want of space. We do not apologize for the length of this discussion. We edit the APPEAL pro bono publico, and not for our own profit; for we starve at it. We have not concealed the fact that we thought our opinions of some value, and entitled to weight and consideration. Every man, we suppose, thinks so of his own. Every public speaker and every editor does, or he ought not to speak or write. We at least give the public, for the pittance of a crust and a cruse of water, the matured reflections of thirty years. If they are worthless, others have been mistaken before us, and many will be mistaken in the same way, after us.

When the Constitution framed by the Convention of States in 1787, was submitted to the States, by the Delegates of States, for individual ratification by each State, it was thought that the Legislatures were not clothed with the power to surrender any of the sovereign powers of legislation of their States, that they might no longer be exercised by each severally, but should be exercised by each jointly, by one agency created by them, and whose action was to be the action of all. Therefore it was required that the assent of each State to this mode of the exercise of its sovereign powers, should be given by each State in the only authoritative manner that could commit it to such a restriction of its future separate action, a Convention of its people.

It is not to be presumed that the Convention which spoke the sovereign will of the free, sovereign and independent State of Tennessee meant to invest the Legislature with the power of making amendments to the Constitution. Could it do so, if it so intended? If it could, it could have empowered the Legislature to make a new Constitution, ab ovo usque ad mala, from the preamble to the authentication. Concede the power of the Convention to delegate to the Legislature the power to add one clause to the Constitution or strike one from it, and you concede its power to authorize the same body to make a complete Constitution, changing the old one at its absolute and unlimited discretion. Can we concede that? We, for one, cannot.

Delegatus not potest delegare, is a maxim to which there are no known exceptions. When the people empower a convention to make or amend a Constitution, there is a personal trust and confidence reposed in the members and the body, which cannot be delegated. The people have not authorized it. They have not selected the members of the Legislature for that purpose. A trustee to sell must himself make the sale. He cannot appoint another to do it. The principle is so broad as that; and what trust is there in the world, as to which so much confidence is reposed in the person, as that of making a permanent Constitution for a State,—an immense power, a sacred trust, so easy to be abused?

The principle is general, in public as well as private affairs, nay, more peremptory in public than in private affairs, that an agent cannot delegate his discretion, but may do any mechanical act by deputy. An attorney appointed by deed cannot delegate his authority to a third person. Mason v. Joseph, 1 Smith 406; Com. Bk. of Lake Erie v. Norton, 1 Hill 506.

In Lyon v. Jerome, 26 Wend. 485, this question was considered as to public agents; and the Court held that "In all cases of delegated authority, where personal trust or confidence is reposed in the agent, and especially where the exercise and application of the power is made subject to his judgment or discretion, the authority is purely personal, and cannot be delegated to another, unless there be a special power of substitution." And, as Senator Verplanck said in that case, the reason and policy of the rule apply much more strongly to the delegation of authority by the State, to its high public officers, made with the solemnity of a legislative act. The highest powers that a State can confer, are those conferred on a Convention to frame a Constitution. How, then, can it delegate these powers? How, especially, when the Constitution itself provides the mode of its amendment, and it never was imagined that any other mode could be adopted, except the direct action of a Convention representing the people itself in Council?

We do not say that the Convention could not give the Legislature power to fix the qualifications of voters and the limitation of the elective franchise. We only say that it could not empower them to make their enactments part of the Constitution; and that any subsequent Legislature could repeal and can repeal, what the first one did. The 9th section of the schedule simply transfers to the Legislature so much of the power which the Constitution had reserved to be exercised by the mode of amendment provided by itself. It simply puts the subject within the domain of the ordinary legislative power. It could do that, but it could not delegate to the Legislature the power to make one article of the Constitution; for if it could, it could have delegated the power of making a Constitution complete. State Constitutions are not grants, but limitations of legislative power. What is not forbidden, is therefore permitted, to be done by legislative act. The 9th section merely removes a prohibition of the Constitution, and leaves the question of franchise to the legislative power.

Now, "a legislative act does not bind a subsequent Legislature. Each body possesses the same power, and has a right to exercise the same discretion. . . There is no mode by which a legislative act can be made unrepealable, except it assume the form and substance of a contract. . . Every legislative body, unless restricted by the Constitution, may modify or abolish the acts of its predecessors." Bloomer v. Stolley, 5 McLean, 161.

In Collier vs. Frierson, 24 Ala. 100, it was held, that the Constitution of Alabama could only be changed by the people in Convention, or in the mode prescribed in the instrument itself.

In Thorne vs. Cramer, 15 Barbour 112, the Legislature of New York had passed an act, providing that the electors should decide by vote whether it should become a law. The Supreme Court said that the act was no law, the Legislature either having no will, or, having one, not daring to express it; but sending the inert skeleton to another Tribunal, to be invested with that living principle which the representatives had not the disposition or the courage to impart.

The Court said, in the language of a Judge of a neighboring State, that the act operated not proprio vigore, but, if at all, only by virtue of a mandate expressed subsequently to its enactment, in pursuance of an invitation given by the legislative bodies."

The Court said, in substance, that the law-making power was entrusted, in New York, by the Constitution, to the Legislature, and could not be lodged with or transferred to any other body. The members of that Legislature were elected by their constituents for the important duty of making laws. No higher trust and confidence, the Court said, can be reposed by man in man. But that was an error, because the trust and confidence reposed in those selected to make a Constitution are infinitely higher. It is to be presumed, the Court said, that they are chosen for their wisdom, integrity, experience and fitness. And then it asked the pertinent question: "Upon what principle, then, can the representatives transfer to any other person or persons the power of making, or what is tantamount, the power of breathing life and efficacy into laws? Suppose they should attempt to clothe with this authority some individual, as the Governor or Attorney-General, would not the common sense of the whole community be shocked at their dereliction of duty? There is moreover a well-established rule of law which forbids such a transfer. A member of the Legislature is the voluntary agent of his constituents. He is not compelled to serve them, if he chooses to decline. If, however, he accepts the office of Legislator, he takes it with all its duties and responsibilities; and as a true and faithful agent, he cannot shrink from meeting and discharging them. And above all, he cannot delegate to others the trust which has been expressly confided to him, by reason of his supposed knowledge and sound judgment. Delegata potestas non potest delegari, is a settled maxim of the common law, in full force at the present day; and never more applicable than to the case of a Legislator."

The same subject was examined at length and with great ability, by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, in Parker vs. The Commonwealth, 6 Barr, 507, and the same conclusions were reached.

But it will be said that the Convention only proposed the amendments and schedule, and that they were adopted by the people themselves, to whom they were submitted; so that the Convention did not delegate to the Legislature the power of making new Constitutional provisions; but this power was conferred on them by the people themselves.

To this we reply, first, that it cannot be assumed that the people, by voting for the schedule, meant to confer any such power on the Legislature. They meant, undoubtedly, to give the power to fix the qualifications of voters, and determine the limitation of the elective franchise, for they did do it. But they were not advised, by the schedule itself, or in any other way, that what the Legislature might, under this authority, enact, was to become a part of the Constitution itself. It cannot be inferred that they meant to give the power to do more than legislate on the subject, in the ordinary mode, and with the usual effects of ordinary legislation.

Second: It is matter of very grave doubt whether, the Constitution of 1834 remaining in force, as it did, the people could, by their votes given in mass, empower the Legislature to amend the Constitution. That instrument does not entrust the power of amendment to the majority of the people only. One-half of all the members of the Legislature must vote for the amendments at one session, and two-thirds of all at the next, and then the people.

The Convention made no change in the Constitution, except by the specific amendments proposed. It did not change its provisions as to the mode of amending it. Could that body, while these provisions remained unaltered, empower the people to confer the power of amendment on a mere majority of a single Legislature, at one session? or could the people themselves, by majority vote, confer that power?

The Constitution could be amended, only by the procedure provided for by itself, or by a convention of the people. The people could not confer that power on the Legislature, if they themselves possessed it. It is quite evident that if this can be done, Constitutions can have no sanctity or stability; and may be changed by every succeeding Legislature. The people of Tennessee had wisely divested themselves of this power, only reserving to themselves the right to pass at the polls upon all amendments, after they should have been adopted by two succeeding Legislatures.

The whole proceeding of the Convention was singularly anomalous. While the provision of the Constitution in regard to the mode of amendment remained all the time untouched and in full force, they proposed to amend it in a mode forbidden by itself; not by their own action, as a convention representing the sovereignty of the State, and authorized to make, if they chose, a new Constitution, but by a simple vote of a majority of loyal voters. The Convention received its powers from the people, and possessed them because it was "the PEOPLE of the State of Tennessee in Convention assembled." It could not confer any power on that people. It could not give them the power to adopt the amendments or schedule. It could only recognize their right to do so. And that right, if the people had it, was inherent in them, and may be exercised again at any time. It is absurd to say that the People in Convention authorizes itself at the polls, to amend the Constitution, or to authorize the Legislature to do it. As little will any act of a Legislature be necessary hereafter, to give the people that authority.

Admit that the power is inherent in the people. Could they exercise it when they had solemnly stipulated in what manner alone the Constitution should be amended? As was said by the Supreme Court of New York, in Thorne vs. Cramer, when the people make a Constitution, they part with their original right of making laws, and reserve to themselves no authority, directly, to make or administer laws. So long as the Constitution stands, their natural rights are suspended, and they can only resume them by destroying the Constitution, that is, by a revolution. "Majorities, the Court said, "are to govern ONLY IN THE PRESCRIBED FORM. If the majority wish the passage of a certain law, they must elect such Representatives as will make the law, in the mode pointed out by the Constitution. The minority have consented to be governed by such statutes as are passed in the constitutional manner; but they have never consented to submit to such laws as the majority should enact at the polls; and the Constitution is designed for the protection of minorities against the caprices, recklessness or prejudices of majorities. . . The interest of the whole community requires that the fundamental compact should be preserved sacred and inviolate."

And the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania said, "If the two Houses can divest themselves of their office of law-makers, and devolve it upon the body of the people, what security have we against the passage of laws, perhaps well meant, but liable to be glaringly wrong, because inconsiderately adopted? And what check is left upon hasty and ill-advised zeal, open to be influenced and misguided by interested cunning or blind fanaticism? If the practice be sanctioned, there may follow a train of experiments, which, unarrested at some point of their progress, must end in the final overthrow of the Constitution. Every case of doubtful propriety will be referred to the result of a ballot; and acts of the Assembly, subject to the popular vote, will be yielded to unthinking clamor or partisan importunity, by faithless legislators anxious to escape the responsibility of their position."

These remarks, of both courts, apply as strongly to the case we are considering, as to those in which they were made.

In amending a Constitution, as in making laws, majorities can govern ONLY IN THE PRESCRIBED FORM. If the majority wish a particular amendment, they must either follow the mode provided by the Constitution, or assemble in Convention, by delegates duly elected, to do it. The minority have consented that the Constitution may be amended in the prescribed mode; and, as seems now to be too well settled to be disputed, that, notwithstanding the Constitution provides a particular mode by which it shall be amended, a Convention may at any time be called together by the majority, and amend, remodel or utterly destroy the Constitution. The power to do this, we must concede. The right we deny. The minority have no guarantees at all, if the Constitution can be amended in any other way than according to the compact in the instrument itself.

But we do not deny that, under the exceptional circumstances of the case in Tennessee, a Convention of the loyal men of the State could assemble and act with plenary power in the premises. They could have abolished the old Constitution; but they did not touch it, except by the specific amendments proposed. They could have abrogated the provision which prescribed the mode of amending it;—but they did not. They adopted and re-affirmed the whole Constituti on, except so far as they proposed amendments to it.

The minority of the loyal men of the State never consented to submit to such amendments to the Constitution as the majority at the polls should authorize a majority of the Legislature to make at a breath. If this can be done, what protection is there against the caprices, recklessness or prejudices of majorities? How could the Constitutional provision as to the mode of amendment, a part of the fundamental compact, be preserved sacred and inviolate, as it was, and the Legislature be authorized by vote of the people at the polls to incorporate new provisions into the Constitution?

If the people can in that manner amend Constitutions, notwithstanding a Constitutional provision that absolutely excludes the exercise of such a power, what security is there against the hasty and inconsiderate adoption of Constitutional provisions, procured by interested cunning or blind rancor? The practice of so amending, if continued, would necessarily end in the overthrow of the Constitution, the whole of it at once becoming a mere ordinary legislative act. A popular vote, obtained by unthinking clamor or partizan importunity, would make and unmake Constitutions, and there would soon be no fundamental compact or supreme law at all.

We repeat, the Schedule does not say that the Legislative enactments as to voting should become parts of the Constitution: the people did not vote for the Schedule, with any knowledge or understanding that such would be the case: and the true construction and law of the matter is, that the Schedule simply removed from the Constitution all that related to the qualification of voters and the limitation of the elective franchise, and placed it among the subjects of ordinary legislation,—declining, it must be supposed, to introduce proscriptive provisions into the Constitution, where they would be permanent, and removing the restriction on the powers of the Legislature, which thereby become plenary, that such temporary provisions might be made as the exigency of the times required, which could be again changed by the Legislature at pleasure, when a change should be found expedient.

"De mortius nil nisi verum" says the inconoclastic, who it seems would destroy all tombstones. But what does he propose to say De vivis does refuse to apply his nil nisi verum to the living? [Nashville Gazette.

What does our neighbor mean? What and whom is he driving it? Who is this inconoclastic that has been getting off such fearfully bad Latin?

LAST spring the sovereignty of Michigan repudiated the nigger, and this fall it promises to repudiate the nigger party. A good Democrat friend in Detroit writes: "You can count on Michigan for eight more electoral votes. We have our Seymour and Blair clubs all over the State. Such a stampede from the Jacobin ranks was never known before as is going on now, and just as sure as there is an election, will Michigan go Democratic."—Winona Democrat.

—The Chattanooga American Union says: We learn through a letter from Gen. Weitzel, dated Cincinnati, August 4th, to Col. Gaw, that the late appropriation to the improvement of the Tennessee river, will be immediately applied. Col. William B. Gaw has received the appointment as First Assistant Engineer, and will leave this city early next week for Cincinnati to receive instructions. Of the amount appropriated, $75,000, will be used between Decatur and Chattanooga.

We can safely say to our Bluff City friends that old Hardeman can sit flat in the road and walk over any Radical log ever put across the path of white men by even as mean a set as compose the Legislature of Tennessee. Old Hardeman is a club within herself. However, there's nothing like having a wheel within a wheel, and we'll wager that the work does move gloriously in old Hardeman.—Bolivar Bulletin.

NASHVILLE.

NASHVILLE, Aug. 18.—Exaggerated accounts of a difficulty near Waynesboro were published here this morning. None were killed. The following is a true statement: On Thursday last a number of persons in masks went out to Wayne's Furnace, where some negroes had been drilling. After consulting with the proprietor, they conferred with the leading negroes, and advised them to quit drilling and give up their arms to the Superintendent of the furnace, to be turned over to the State. The negroes consented, and the maskers left. As they rode back through Waynesboro, they were fired upon by the Sheriff's posse, concealed in a stockade in town—three of them being wounded and several horses killed. They returned the fire and scattered.

A meeting of citizens of Waynesboro was held Saturday. It protested against all violence, and pledged the people to peace measures.

The session of the Teachers' Convention was to-day devoted to the American Normal School Association. A number of interesting topics were discussed, and able speeches were made by White, Gregory and Bokkien.

ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, August 18.—Advices from Ellsworth, Kansas, state that on Monday, the 10th, a band of some 100 Indians appeared at Spellman Neck, about sixteen miles northeast of Ellsworth. Arriving at the house of Mr. Shaw, they caught and beat him unmercifully and drove him away. The devils then caught Mrs. Shaw and her sister and violated their persons, continuing to abuse the helpless women till long after they had become senseless. They then proceeded to the residence of Mr. Smith, caught and beat him in the same manner, and violated the person of his wife, leaving her in a critical condition. It is very doubtful whether these poor women will recover. The Indians met and abused several other citizens, but after destroying everything in their reach they left suddenly for the North. A detachment of twenty soldiers was sent after the Indians from Fort Hooker, accompanied by fifty or sixty settlers. On Wednesday night they sent back for reinforcements, and on Thursday a full company under command of Col. Benton followed. The latest report was that Benton had come on the Indians, who had some ten or fifteen women surrounded in a house, and that he had driven the red skins away, but how many killed was not known. These are probably the same Indians who have been murdering and committing their outrages on Solomon creek.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, August 18.—The Lottery bill, against which the presiding officers of both Houses protested so strongly, became a law by lapse of time for the Governor's action. Not satisfied with the bill passed some time since, vesting the control of police affairs of this city in a Board of Commissioners independent of the city authorities, another bill is now before the Senate creating a Metropolitan Police district, comprising the city and parish of Orleans, and Jefferson and St. Bernard parishes, providing that the powers and duties connected with, and incident to, the police government be vested in a board of five commissioners of which the Lieutenant Governor is ex officio President. The Board is to appoint a superintendent, inspectors, captains, surgeons, sergeants, patrolmen, clerks and doormen. The commissioners are to be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

The advocates of the bill say it resembles in most respects the Metropolitan Police bill of New York. It contains the usual proviso, that none can hold even the most subordinate position who is disqualified to hold office under the 14th article of State Constitution. The Board is empowered to provide such accommodations for itself as it may deem requisite, and appoint special patrolmen at discretion. Members of the Metropolitan Police force are empowered to discharge all constabulary powers, except civil process, in any part of the State. The Board to select one of their own number treasurer, and to control the disbursement of funds provided by this bill.

This Board will also pass enactments, defining the powers and duties of officers and members of this force, only providing such enactments do not conflict with this act or the Constitution of the United States and this State.

The bill makes it a misdemeanor punishable with fine and imprisonment to use personal violence upon or abusive or threatening language towards any member of this force. It provides, also, that all criminal processes issuing from any court, justice, or Judge within this District be served by members of this force, and by them alone; and no Constable or Deputy Sheriff shall hereafter attend such courts or be paid by any authority within said Districts. The Board is authorized to exercise powers now conferred by law on Mayors of cities in respect to requiring aid of the Military Board and will estimate the sums required to carry out this law, assess them upon the corporations within this district, and from their assessment there is no appeal. Also empowered to lease or purchase anything they may deem necessary for their accommodation, such purchase or lease to be a proper debt against such corporation. It empowers them to procure steamboats, horses, chariots, any means of conveyance they may deem necessary, etc. These are specimens of the general tenor of the bill. An additional section, offered yesterday, providing that the entire cost of this public service shall not exceed $600,000 yearly, was voted down by a strict party vote.

LATE NEWS.

—The duties paid in the New York customhouse last week exceeded $4,000,000.

—Petitions are circulating in Boston asking the right of suffrage for males over eighteen years old, and proposing to memorialize Congress.

—The following New York news comes as special telegrams to the Cincinnati Commercial, dated New York, 16th:

The French residents of New York observed the Emperor's fete-day yesterday, after the customary manner.

A prominent officer of the Pacific Railway has made a bet of ten thousand dollars that the road will be completed by the 1st of May.

Parties interested in the Southern Pacific Railway are here arranging to raise money for completing the road through Southwest Missouri.

The Herald, to-day, predicts the triumph of the greenback principle in the event of Seymour's election, and warns the bondholding aristocracy of New York to prepare for defeat.

A wealthy lady died last week in Carkestown, Winchester county, and was buried in Greenwood Cemetery under suspicious circumstances. Her body has been exhumed, and is being analyzed by a chemist. It is hinted that her husband was interested pecunlarily in her death, and hence the investigation which is being made under the auspices of her relatives. The property left by her is valued at $150,000.

The health officers to-day seized a quantity of meat said to be diseased, and intended for sale in market to-morrow. Fifteen beef cattle affected with the plague were found on a farm, near Patterson, yesterday. They were recently brought from Illinois, and their owner was endeavoring to deceive the officials.

—The following highly sensational item comes to us dated Chicago, 16th inst:

A boy disappeared two weeks ago, and has just reappeared. He asserts that he was enveigled by a stranger into taking a buggy ride, was carried to a lone house on the prairie, and was shut up in a cellar, with a dozen other boys, twelve to fifteen years old, all of whom were gagged and bound. He, with one companion, finally succeeded in making his escape. The police are looking into the affair. There are several theories in regard to the purpose of the kidnappers, one being that they are engaged in furnishing bodies for dissection, and another that they seek to train up the lads as thieves.

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT.—The concert at the New Memphis Theater last night was a most flattering ovation to Messrs. Wheat and Farmer, and a decided success in a pecuniary point of view. The house was full in every part, and there were persons standing in the aisles. Owing to indisposition, neither Miss Rice nor Mr. Nathan were able to sing. Every piece was loudly applauded. Mrs. Keating especially excelled herself and was frequently encored. She was also the recipient of several handsome boquets and other marks of the enthusiastic approbation of the audience. At the close of the performance the immense concourse found to their chagrin that the windows of heaven had opened, and it was raining furiously. Hacks and umbrellas were at a premium, and at present writing (half-past eleven) we learn that hundreds are still weather-bound, waiting for the rain to cease.

To the Tax-Payers of Memphis.

I hope you will not regard it as presumptuous in me, as chairman of the Finance Committee, to make you a few plain statements concerning our present condition and prospects financially.

I feel it to be the duty of all good citizens to aid, by all means in their power, in building up and sustaining the credit of their city government, and certainly they ought to do this, when we have officials (as we now have) who are doing all they can to economize and save them from bankruptcy and ruin. But the tax-payers of the city have not co-operated with us as they should have done; if they had, our credit would to-day be far in advance of what it is. Just look at the facts: The entire floating debt of the city amounts to $1,110,127 33. Of this amount, a portion is for bills payable, which will not mature for a long time to come, say eight to ten months. But the worst part of it all is the larger sum of $936,328 that is owing us by you, for taxes, and which, if you will come up and promptly pay (you can now do it cheaper than you will be able to do a few weeks hence, when scrip will have advanced, as it certainly will), will help us out more readily than anything we could do. You will notice also that $300,000 of our scrip is being rapidly absorbed by the funding into bonds, which will leave but about $200,000 in the market to be used by you in paying taxes.

I know you all (very justly too) complain of hard times, but let a big speculation present itself and most of you will manage some way to raise money to go into it. Let me here say, that in my opinion, no better speculation can be shown that will pay you so well as to come up honestly and pay your taxes, thereby elevating our credit, which you ought any way to feel a pride in doing, and enabling us to redeem the amount of your tax next year. This is a great advantage you will have, and these are matters that deeply interest the smallest tax-payer in the city. Let me here assure you that it is the duty of the authorities to enforce, by all the legal means in their power, the collection of this large balance of unpaid taxes, and I know I speak the sentiments of the whole Board of Mayor and Aldermen, when I tell you they will do so promptly, and without fear or favor. If this large debt was paid by you, then the city would be relieved of her entire floating debt, and the expense of carrying on the city government could be reduced from twenty to thirty per cent. Your city bonds would advance, and you would all soon see a very different state of prosperity, on the subject of city bonds. It is most astonishing to me, that you will all lay still and see one of the best paying stocks that can now be got hold of, taken from you by Northern capitalists, just as you did the scrip. The bonds, at the present market rates, are a twelve per cent. investment, and to you, taxpayers, what on earth is safer to put your money in? You have the interest provided for in your own taxes, and the bonds, at maturity, will bring double what they now cost you; besides, these bonds are a first mortgage on every foot of your property. In every other city but Memphis, the property owners try and get hold of their own bonds, and thereby keep them at home. Just so sure as the sun rises, gentlemen, if you do not appreciate our bonds, you will regret it, for I have every confidence that in a short time you will see them sought after at from seventy-five to eighty cents on the dollar. Very respectfully,
E. MCDAVITT,
Chairman Finance Committee.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Adjourned Meeting Yesterday.

The Board of County Commissioners met pursuant to resolution of adjournment. Present: Hon. B. Lewis, presiding, Assistant Commissioners J. E. Merriman and F. W. Louis.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A resolution to have the proceedings of Monday printed was passed.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Merriman and adopted:

WHEREAS, The taxes levied in 1866 and 1867 for building county jail are largely in arrears of the actual expenes incurred for said building; therefore Ordered by the Board of Commissioners for Shelby County, Tennessee, That a special tax of thirty cents on every one hundred dollars worth of real and personal property be and the same is hereby levied for the year 1868, for the purpose of helping to make good the deficiency in the jail account; said taxes to be collected in cash, interest coupons, or county warrants.

The following order was also made:

Ordered, That B. McBride be and he hereby is appointed Constable of the Fifteenth Civil District to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of John B. Coggeshall.

Several appropriations were then made and the Board adjourned.

POLICE ITEMS.

—The case of Miss Annie Gallagher is dragging along slowly before 'Squire Walton, seven of the twenty-two indictments having been tried up to yesterday evening. The 'Squire's office is filled all day during the trial with the partisans and friends of the contending parties, and others who drop in just to see the "fun." The case is sometimes enlivened by a side show, which affords more amusement than the main performance. One of these interesting little episodes occurred yesterday, and is thus narrated by an impartial eye witness: One of the principal witnesses for the prosecution, and indeed the one upon whose oath the indictments were filed, is a 'lady' known as Mag Moody—Miss or Madam—we do not know which. For some reason Miss Moody does not seem to like the gentle Annie, and has been doing some heavy swearing against her, which, naturally enough, caused Annie to feel not very amiably toward her, and to let her tongue loose on her once or twice in language more forcible than polite. The two ladies met yesterday evening in the office of 'Squire Miller, who is the prosecuting attorney in the case, and commenced passing the compliments of the day, and bandying epithets in their usual chaste and elegant language. Miss Moody informed the gentle Annie that she was "regular old plsen—mighty nice," which raised Annie's ire, and caused her to retort by an argumentum ad feminam—in other words, the charming Annie went for Moody. Before she reached her, however, she was seized by the waterfall by a partner of Moody's, named Miss Van Wirt, and held fast. A lively little skirmish ensued, which was awful on calico, hair, and sich. The waterfall of the Examiner at last gave way, and finding herself freed from the clutches of Van Wirt, she broke for a policeman, and had her assailants arrested. They were marched into Justice Black's office, and placed under $500 bonds to keep the peace, which they gave, and went on their way rejoicing.

—George Byrd, caused Toby Greenlaw to be arrested yesterday on the charge of petty larceny, in having stolen a pigeon from him to the value of thirty cents. The case was examined by 'Squire Griffith yesterday. The defendant was discharged and the costs assessed against the complainant.

—Henry Orton was arrested yesterday on complaint of Jane Alexander, who charged him with obtaining money under false pretenses. 'Squire Black sent him up in default of $2000 bond to appear at the next term of the Criminal Court.

—There were eleven arrests during the twelve hours ending at 6 p.m. in the lower District yesterday—all for minor offenses.

GEN. FORREST.—A scalawag editor is highly delighted because some one has said (or is said to have said) that Harris made a better speech than Forrest, at the Barbecue, at Wythe Station. Virgil tells us that every soil bears not every thing, "Sola India negrum fert obenum."

Forrest never claimed to be a speaker or orator that we know of, but none ought to know better than the scalawags that he has a forte. He took one once.

THE COURTS.

MUNICIPAL COURT—Geo. W. Waldran, Judge.—On yesterday in the case of the State vs. Beaumont the defendant filed a plea in abatement, alleging that his name was Samuel B. Beaumont instead of Simon B. Beaumont, as charged in the indictment. The motion to dismiss on plea in abatement, will be argued to-day. All the other cases set for trial on yesterday were disposed of by continuance, etc. The cases set for trial to-day are as follows:

1788, 1789 The State vs Beaumont, failure to make report as required by law.
1790, 1791 The State vs Burditt, failure to make report as required by law.
267 The State vs Cuss Swears, gaming.
472, 476 The State vs Madison & Swears, gaming.
1777 The state vs Cosgrove, carrying concealed weapons.
1778 The State vs Jones, carrying concealed weapons.
1780 The State vs McPartland, carrying concealed weapons.

BANKRUPTCY COURT—T. J. Latham, Register.—Final discharges in bankruptcy have been granted to the following parties since the 14th inst: Geo. R. McNabb, F. W. Royster, Edson R. Hart, Dan Shloss and Julius Wungersheim of the firm of D. Shloss & Co., Thos. J. Pearson and James H. Pearson of the firm of Thos. J. Pearson & Co., Alexander Rudd, Frank A. Saunders, Henry G. Hollinberg, Spencer H. Lamb.

CRIMINAL COURT—Wm. Hunter, Judge.—The argument of Gen. Sale for the State, and of Gen. Wm. Wallace for the defendant, in the case of the State vs. John Cosgrove, on motion for new trial, closed yesterday morning. Judge Hunter granted the motion for new trial. In the meantime the defendant was remanded to jail. The question of bail will probably come up in a few days, and it promises to give rise to labored and lengthy arguments.

An examination on application for bail was heard last evening in the case of the State vs. Mike Dougher, indictment for murder. The decision will probably be given this evening.

The examination on application for bail in the case of the State vs. Owen McPartland, who was indicted jointly with Winters and Costillo, will be heard to-day—indictment for the murder of Connell. The defendants, Winters and Costillo, have obtained a change of venue to Fayette county.

The petit jury was discharged until Monday next, as there are several cases of habeas corpus to be inquired into by the court during the remainder of the week.

CHANCERY COURT—Wm. M. Smith, Chancellor.—Judge Smith heard the arguments of Messrs. Griffin and Col. McRae, in chambers last evening, in the case of Burditt et al. vs. Waldran, on the application for removal of Judge Waldran from office on account of ineligibility and for injunction to stop proceedings in the Municipal Court against Messrs. Burditt and Beaumont, Police Commissioners. Chancellor Smith reserved his decision in the case.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A TRAVELER.

We are informed that a stranger, traveling on foot toward Memphis, last Thursday morning, was taken with a congestive chill at Black Fish Bayou, and died in the course of an hour after being taken. He was heard to hail the ferryman by a party of gentlemen who were fishing in the bayou, and on coming ashore a half hour later, they found him lying in the shade and evidently far gone in congestion. Mrs. Booker, who lives near by, had him removed immediately to her house, where everything possible was done for him. Before becoming unconscious, he stated that his name was John W. Singleton, of Mississippi, that he had been at work in Arkansas, and was then on his way to Memphis. No further information relative to his history or residence could be gleaned from him. He appeared to be a man of twenty-seven to thirty years of age, and of medium size. The remains were decently interred by Mr. Booker, of Black Fish, who will give any further information that he may possess, to any friend or relative of the deceased. Mississippi papers are requested to publish the above. By this means it may meet the eye of some of his friends or acquaintances.

The County Jail.

We cheerfully publish the following note from Sheriff Curry, in answer to our item of Monday morning:

MEMPHIS, August 18, 1868.

Local Editor of the Appeal:

Dear Sir: Your local in yesterday's APPEAL may be construed as a reflection on the manner of admitting visitors to the County Jail. Outside of those whom the law prescribes as entitled to enter therein, no one is permitted to visit it except by a pass from the Sheriff's office, which is always granted to white and black alike, if the Sheriff has sufficient guards at the Jail not otherwise employed, to attend visitors. Had the two gentlemen you referred to applied at the Sheriff's office for a permit, as the party you referred to did, no doubt it would cheerfully have been granted them. Promiscuous giving of passes the Sheriff of course cannot adopt—the safety of prisoners and want of guards forbid it—but the Sheriff is glad to have the opportunity of granting any of the respectable citizens of Shelby county permits to visit the Jail whenever guards can be spared to accompany them, and the official business of the county not neglected thereby. Yours truly, A. P. CURBY.

Street Paving.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

I see the Nicholson pavement is being laid very rapidly with timber brought a great distance, with large profits to the contractors, whilst money is very scarce and property owners in many instances will be greatly damaged by addition of this debt to others they owe, and Nicholson pavement is comparatively an experiment, laid down here with green timber, not giving Tennesseeans an opportunity to furnish the timber, all the money taken to the people we so much love in the North, saying nothing of the concrete pavement that can be put down for one-half the money, and by Tennesseeans. I ask any gentlemen to examine tried specimens of it, in front and in the yard of the Memphis and Charleston depot. Here gentlemen can see a pavement far superior to the wood, as easy for a horse and the duration ad infinitum, and no mistake. The City Fathers should look at this. CITY FRIEND.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, August 18, 1868.

The tone of money matters has undergone no especial change since yesterday, and aside from the transactions in bonds and stocks presented below we have little of interest to present to our readers. Business in the general market continues to improve, but is not active in any particular branch. Corn has advanced a little, and meats are rather firmer, which is chiefly due, however, to the fact that there are no large lots pressing on the market. Merchants are beginning to receive large consignments, and stores are rapidly filling up in view of the coming business season.

Exchange was a little scarce to-day, necessitating moderate shipments of currency Northward. Rates are unchanged and very firm.

The coin market was dull, only small offerings of gold, and no demand of a local nature. Dealers were offering only 143@144c for the small amounts presented; but a lot of $5000, or thereabouts, would have sold readily for 144½@145c. In New York gold opened at 146¼c—was 146⅛c at noon, with 3½ per cent as the loan rate, and closed at 145⅞c.

City Scrip was slow of sale to dealers at 70c, and is easy to tax payers at 75c for small amounts. Dealers continue to report no counter demand.

County Scrip was in demand to a moderate extent at irregular rates—50@53c—and can be had of dealers in small amounts at 55c.

Police Scrip remains scarce and firm at 75c buying, and 80c selling.

There was a fair degree of animation in the market for stocks and securities, excepting that city bonds were dull at 50c. Bankers' purchases were $37,000 Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad 2d mortgage bonds at 33c, and $3000 1st mortgage do. at 60c. Also 18 shares Mississippi Central Railroad stock at 10c. The following were the sales at Augusta on the 12th: $6000 Memphis bonds at 48⅜c; $1500 Memphis coupons at 70½c; 44 shares Georgia Railroad stock at 97@99c; $125,000 Augusta city bonds at 77½@78c; $778 Augusta coupons at 93½c; $42,700 Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad 2d mortgage bonds at 33½c; 40 shares Washington and New Orleans Telegraph stock at $26 per share.

MEMPHIS, TENN., August 18, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

In your article of this date about cotton you say the first bale of the new cotton crop ever received in Memphis was on the 13th of this month, before the war. In this you are mistaken. We find on reference to our books that we received the first bale in Memphis of the crop of 1860, on the 2d of August of that year, from Col. Thos. J. Manley, of Bolivar county, Miss., and sold the same to Harris, Hunt & Co.

Very Respectfully,
PICKETT, WORMELEY & CO.

Cotton in Liverpool at 10½d for Uplands, and 11¼d for Orleans, with sales of 15,000 bales. Market unchanged at the close. Quotations unchanged at New York, with sales of 1500 bales. Nineteen bales were offered here at 26c but refused. It classed Good Ordinary.

COTTON GINS.

COTTON GINS! COTTON GINS

E. CARVER CO.'S

Improved Gins!

THE great number of these celebrated Gins stands in use throughout this whole country, are actual working witnesses of their acknowledged superiority. No neighborhood is without some of these splendid machines, and we make reference to each and every planter now using them as to their superior advantages over all others.

Those needing Gins will consult their best interests when they bear in mind that the "E. CARVER CO.'S IMPROVED GINS" can be had with any desired number of Saws, either right or left hand motion, by calling on or sending their orders to

ALLISON BROTHERS,

Commission Merchants desiring to make purchases of Gin Stands for their customers, will find it to their advantage to call upon us. jy14 3m ALLISON BROTHERS.

Pratt's Southern Made Cotton Gin

THIS GIN is regarded by planters who have used it, as the best for sample, picking the seed clean and light draught. Planters cultivating bottom lands are requested to examine the Eureka Gin at Farrington & Howell's, 268 Front street. It will pay for itself in ginning fifty bales. A. N. Gunnison, manufacturer of the Steel Comb Gin before the war but now a planter, gives the following certificate:

"MEMPHIS, TENN., January 31, 1868.

"I take pleasure in recommending to planters cultivating Cotton on bottom lands of the Mississippi, Arkansas, White and St. Francis rivers, the Eureka Gin, made by Daniel Pratt, of Alabama. This Gin separates the hulls, bolls, etc., from the Seed Cotton, makes a good sample, and is superior to any other Gin for bottom lands. I have used one myself on a farm in Washington county, Miss., and it operates well and gives entire satisfaction in every respect. A. N. GUNNISON."

Orders for Gins, from 40 to 80 Saws and Gum Belting, at Factory Prices, addressed to the care of FARRINGTON & HOWELL, 268 Front street, Memphis, promptly filled. Presses and Gearing put up, and Gins repaired by a skillful Ginwright. G. W. TRUEHEART, jy28 8aw2m&w Agent for Daniel Pratt.

EAGLE COTTON GINS.

WE are the Sole Agents for the sale of these unrivalled Gin Stands. For beauty of STAPLE, LIGHTNESS OF DRAFT, AND QUANTITY OF LINT COTTON turned out per day, they are unsurpassed. Reference can be safely made to every planter who has given them a fair trial. Where mule power is used, they make a saving of from one-quarter to one-third the draft OVER ANY OTHER GIN. We are also agents for STRAUB'S GRIST MILLS, and WHEELER, CLEMSON & CO.'S CIRCULAR SAWS.

Pride's Point Levee, about 40,000 cubic yards.
From Vicks to Vermillion, about 180,000 cubic yards.
Lake Bolivar Levee, 180,000 cubic yards.

WASHINGTON COUNTY.

Levee from Tarpley's to Mrs. Campbell's, about 120,000 cubic yards
Greenville Levee, about 20,000 cubic yards.
Kershaw's Levee, about 20,000 cubic yards.

For the information of capitalists, I would state that the whole amount of indebtedness of the Board is about $138,000, and that the tax on the present cotton crop will more than discharge every form of obligation.

Any information in regard to the Levees, or matters pertaining to their construction, can be obtained by application at the office.

BUCKEYE SALVE

—FOR THE—

CURE OF EVERY FORM

HEMORRHOIDS OR PILES

WHETHER OF LONG STANDING OR RECENT origin, internal or external, whether attended with Prolapsus, Hemorrhage or obstruction, and all by

External Application,

No internal adjuvants being required in any case, only to regulate the bowels, if constipated, or in Diarrhea and Dysentery.

The PILES, while astonishingly prevalent in their various forms amongst all classes of both sexes, are, at the same time, the most distressing, frequently dangerous, and hitherto most difficult of cure.

Persons who suffer any length of time with the Piles generally try every thing they can learn of purporting to cure the disease, yet realize no permanent advantage therefrom. They have been told professionally, perhaps, there was "no permanent cure for Piles," and consequently have despaired of any future cessation from pain and suffering.

To all such a SPECIFIC is offered for their relief. The

BUCKEYE SALVE

Is a strictly scientific combination of well known remedial agents, and the proprietors have no hesitation in saying the BUCKEYE SALVE is the

ONLY INFALLIBLE SPECIFIC

Ever discovered for that disease, and which cures by outward application only, and that in time to come, as in the past, it will stand the test of actual trial, to perform all the proprietors claim for it, if the directions are attended to.

A large number of gentlemen throughout the country of high character and influence have voluntarily attested to its efficacy in their own cases, not from hearsay, and whose certificates may be seen by reference to the publications.

The proprietors will forward to any address one bottle, postpaid, on receipt of the retail price, $1 00 per bottle.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

419 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved Legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep6 dawly
